RELEVANT EXPERIENCE
I was born and raised on a mixed farm in Lacombe County, where I learned the value of hard work, responsibility and community. I have raised my family here and have been actively involved in local programs, events, and volunteer initiatives that strengthen our communities.

With extensive experience in nonprofit leadership and fundraising, I bring strong skills in collaboration, accountability, and building partnerships. My lifelong roots and proven record of community service guide my commitment to serve with integrity, ensuring a safe. thriving, and sustainable future for all residents.

REASON FOR RUNNING
I am running for Lacombe County Council because this area has always been my home, my heritage, my heart. Growing up here I learned the value of hard work, responsibility and resilience. I believe that being invested in where you are from guides me to ensuring that this is a place where people are proud to live, work, and grow.

Over the years, I have been actively involved in community programs and dedicated to making a difference where I live. I've seen first hand the strength that comes from people working together and the importance of having strong, steady leadership that listens to residents. I bring experience in building partnerships, managing resources wisely and finding practical solutions that serve the greater good.

My vision for Lacombe County is simple, honor our strong rural roots while preparing for the future. That means protecting and promoting agriculture, supporting families and residents, addressing rural crime to ensure safety, encouraging responsible growth, and managing tax payer dollars with accountability and transparency.

I believe council should reflect the voices of its residents - listening, collaborating, and making decisions that keep our region safe, sustainable, and thriving for future generations. I want to serve not only as a representative but as an advocate for the values and priorities that matter most to the people of Lacombe County. Together, we can build a strong and secure future.
